

Brian Regan

Starry
Vice President, Legal, Policy, and Strategy

Brian is a seasoned communications and technology law and policy expert with more than a decade of experience in government and the private sector. Brian is the Vice President for Legal, Policy, and Strategy at Starry, Inc. In this role, Brian develops and executes Starry's spectrum strategy in the U.S. and abroad, leads Starry's internal and external policy development, and provides strategic guidance to Starry's senior leaders.

Prior to joining Starry, Brian held several senior positions in the Federal Communications Commission's Wireless Bureau, including Associate Bureau Chief, and Chief of Staff and Senior Legal and Policy Advisor. During his tenure at the FCC, Brian managed the Wireless Bureau's spectrum policy portfolio, and helped lead the FCC's spectrum policy coordination with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) and other federal agencies. Brian played a significant role in major spectrum policy initiatives, including AWS-3, AWS-4, the Citizens Broadband Radio Service, and Spectrum Frontiers (5G). Prior to joining the FCC, Brian was the Director of Government Affairs for the Wireless Infrastructure Association.

Brian earned his B.S. in Economics from the University of Delaware, and his J.D. and a Certificate in Communications Law Studies from and the Columbus School of Law at The Catholic University of America.
